Lordie, flow rate could be up to 10 times that estimated by BP and the leak could go on for months. The spill could make Exxon Valdez look minor in comparison.

Experts Question Estimates of Gulf Oil Spill

As BP tries to contain the massive oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico, the question remains just how much oil is leaking. BP continues to claim it's about 5,000 barrels a day, but some scientists say the flow rate is much higher. (May 14)
